SAS License Agreement

This software is provided under a site-license agreement between SAS Institute, Inc. and The Ohio State University and is copyrighted by SAS Institute. This software is available to current faculty and staff of The Ohio State University for use on university-owned computers on campus, including student computing labs, and at home for academic instruction or research use only. For each copy you use on a home computer, you must license a copy for use on a campus computer. This software renews annually for a fee.

You may use this software on a single computer for each copy purchased. You may make copies of the software solely for backup purposes.

You must return the software to the Office of Information Technology (OIT) or your department upon leaving the university.

You may not distribute copies of this software or the documentation to others unless you are obtaining extra copies as a departmental computer support representative. You may not rent, lease, or lend this software or use it for commercial gain.

You agree to the use terms below, and if authorized to install multiple copies, you must advise anyone who is using or receiving any of those copies that they are prohibited from distributing, transferring, modifying, decompiling, reverse engineering, creating a derivative work or making copies of the software, and you must supply them with this agreement. This software may not be used outside the USA. You must assure that their signed End User Agreement is returned to IT Service Desk in 025 Central Classroom Building.

This software is protected by both United States copyright laws and international treaty provisions. Each installed copy of the software must be registered with OIT as a function of signing this form. The information requested below is required as part of the site license and is provided to the vendor.
